Re: Research Project

Dear Bradley:

I should like to take the opportunity to clear up what may be a possible misunderstanding with regard to the urgency of our re-search project.

In a telephone conversation today with Ms. Gisela Rassier, INBIFO's personnel manager, Mr. C. Nettleton indicated that I no longer considered the research project to have the highest priority. My appreciation of the urgency of the project has not changed; it remains for me the first priority. As I mentioned to you in a telephone conversation last week the affiliate must upon notice be able to carry out relevant experimental studies without delay. This should be independent of considerations, political or other, regarding the actual testing date of devices or requisite components.

To put it succinctly: the affiliate must be ready to carry out its activities as soon as notification is given to do such.

Best regards,

(Ulrich Hackenberg)
